

GOODSEARCH...THERE'S NO REASON NOT TO!

Here's another easy way to support EnAble every time you search the Web! What Internet search engine do you use? Would you be willing to change it if that meant helping support EnAble and help the deserving people that we support?

EnAble of Georgia, Inc. has just been registered on GoodSearch, as seen in Oprah Magazine and The New York Times, and on ABC News. As a result, you now have the opportunity to make a small, but much appreciated gift each time you use the Web to search. GoodSearch is a search engine powered by Yahoo designed to make small donations to certain registered charities (of your choice) every time it is used to search the Web. EnAble of Georgia is privileged to be one of the charities they have approved for funding.

GoodSearch is very easy to use and requires very little effort to set your computer to donate to EnAble. First, visit their web site at <http://www.goodsearch.com/?charityid=501710>. Then using their alphabetical listing, look for and designate EnAble of Georgia, Inc. as the organization you would like to support. Then you are ready to begin searching the Web. It's that simple! GoodSearch will make a contribution to EnAble every time you use their search engine. This is one simple way everyone can make a difference.

On their web site, they also give you the option to make GoodSearch the page which opens each time you click on Internet Explorer. That way you have easy access and help EnAble every time!

SUMMER 2007

Choices!

Our mission is to empower adults with developmental disabilities by providing individualized support that reflects each person's choices, strengths, interests, and needs as we enable them to find the home, work, community and meaning in life that they desire.

WELCOME TO THE COUNCIL ON QUALITY AND LEADERSHIP

By Richard Colyer,
Executive Director

On August 21st, EnAble will welcome "The Council" for the fourth time as they begin a four-day accreditation review of the agency. The EnAble team wants to embrace this review as an opportunity to learn, grow, and affirm what we do. The Council will meet individually with some staff members to discuss the following issues:

- Efforts to ensure and promote rights
- Efforts to promote positive approaches in supporting people
- Budgeting and accounting issues; systems in place for helping those we serve manage their finances
- Hiring procedures and screening
- Abuse and neglect reporting, prevention, and follow-up
- Quality enhancement planning/strategic planning processes and initiatives
- Organizational Assurances and Organizing Principles.

Day One... Tuesday, August 21st

The Quality Enhancement review begins with an opening meeting of key constituents from EnAble. We will invite people who have been instrumental in implementing outcome driven services since our last review. This will include representatives of staff from many different functions of the organization, people receiving services, and a few Board members. In this meeting, we will:

- Introduce the accreditation review team and process
- Describe in a presentation our efforts to improve services since our last review
- Review our efforts in moving forward in applying the Personal Outcomes, Organizing Principles, and Basic Assurances in the support services we provide
- Learn about leadership, systems changes, and quality management and planning efforts.

Following the initial meeting, the interview process will begin. Council reviewers will interview 6 individuals to whom we provide services. For those people unable to speak with words, the reviewers will speak with staff, their family, and friends. The interviews will be based on the Personal Outcomes, and they will assess how well we meet and support the outcomes for those selected.

Day Two... Wednesday, August 22nd

The Council team will do interviews all day.

Day Three... Thursday, August 23rd

The Council team will meet with staff to include discussion on the Organizing Principles and Organizational Assurances, which will assist The Council in determining the term of EnAble's accreditation.

Final Day, Friday, August 24th... Criteria for Term of Accreditation

There will be a final meeting where we encourage as many staff and others involved with the organization to attend. At this meeting, The Council will review with EnAble what they discovered during the review process. A portion of the meeting will be devoted to discussing the Quality Measures 2005, and the review process associated with these measures. The Organizing Principles, Leadership, Systems and Quality Management and Planning will play a major role in the term of accreditation awarded.

Best wishes to everyone at EnAble!! ♦

MEET ENABLE'S NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Ken Aitken and Gail Nabors were elected to 3-year terms on EnAble's Board of Directors at its annual meeting in January. Ken and Gail were chosen because of their dedication in serving their respective communities and for their commitment to the developmentally disabled.

Ken is employed with Verizon Business where he has enjoyed a 22-year career. He is currently responsible for physical plant operations for the East Region, an area that covers 500 Verizon Business network facilities in a 25-state region. Ken is an armed forces veteran and holds several certifications in Telecommunications System Operations, which he obtained through his service in the Air Force.

Ken previously served on the Board of Directors of the Housing Initiative of North Fulton, Inc. in Roswell, also known as HomeStretch. When asked why he was interested in serving on EnAble's Board, Ken replied, "I have always been involved with nonprofits that are close to my heart. However, the more compelling reason is that my sister Cheryl is served by EnAble's Day Services program, so it's very important for me to give back and help make this organization become even better."

Ken and his lovely wife Natalie live in Alpharetta with Cheryl and their 16-year old son, Paul, who attends Chattahoochee High. They enjoy taking their boat out on Lake Lanier and traveling when they can find the time. Last year, they visited Tuscany, Italy. This year, the Aitkens plan to see more of Italy, as well as Turkey and Greece. Ken is looking forward to playing a round of golf at EnAble's 14th Annual Golf Classic in October at Crooked Creek Golf Club.

Welcome to the Board, Ken! ♦

Gail Nabors is in her fourth year of teaching Pre-Kindergarten at North Atlanta Community Church. She has also coordinated the Noah's Ark Sunday School Class at Roswell United Methodist Church with Penny Monk for the past six years. Coincidentally, several EnAble consumers served by the North Fulton Office attend the Noah's Ark class.

Some of Gail's past employment has included grantwriting, economic development, and small business ownership. She expressed her excitement in serving on EnAble's Board of Directors by conveying to us her first experience with the developmentally disabled more than 30 years ago that led to her continuous work with them. "My former brother-in-law had Down Syndrome, and getting to know him encouraged me to work with others like him. Since then, I have had a sincere love for these special individuals." Gail served on the Board of the Lurleen B. Wallace Developmental Center in Decatur, Alabama, and has done extensive volunteer work on behalf of the developmentally disabled.

Gail has been married to Jim Nabors for 12 years. Her daughter, Audra Lewis, is a practicing attorney. Audra lives in Tupelo, Mississippi with her husband Drew, who attends law school at the University of Mississippi, and they have a beautiful 7-month old son named Ford. In their spare time, Gail and Jim enjoy traveling to Tupelo to visit their grandson. Gail loves arts and crafts and makes beautiful silk floral arrangements. Jim has affectionately proclaimed her the "Frou-Frou Queen."

We're glad to have you on Board, Gail! ♦

REMEMBERING CHRISTOPHER JOHN DANN

Longtime EnAble consumer Christopher Dann passed away in the early morning hours of Sunday, July 1st at North Fulton Regional Hospital. The news spread quickly among staff and consumers, and we were shocked and saddened by Chris' sudden death. On Monday, July 2nd, consumers and staff gathered in the North Fulton Day Services facility as Richard Colyer, EnAble's President/Executive Director, lovingly spoke about Chris. We were given the opportunity to speak about how much Chris meant to us.

Chris was born to John Dann and Patricia Dann Frawley on November 5, 1970. He was reared by his foster parents, Fred Rodgers and the late Johnnie Rodgers of Lawrenceville, Georgia until he was 19. At that time, Chris had come to EnAble where he had quickly become a joy to many staff and fellow consumers from the very beginning, and remained a wonderful friend to us for more than 17 years.

A memorial service was held for Chris on Tuesday, July 17th at Roswell United Methodist Church where Chris was a member of their Noah's Ark Sunday School Class, along with several other EnAble consumers. Reverend Nancy Folsom of Roswell UMC did a wonderful job in leading the service. Chris' mother, Patricia, his sister, Aubrey Thomas, and her husband and infant son traveled from Ocala, Florida to attend the service. They were incredibly moved by and grateful for the love and care that Chris had received over the years. Also in attendance were members of EnAble's Board of Directors, former and current staff from the North and South Fulton offices, and friends in the community. We are pleased to share with you here the many loving, happy, funny memories of Chris that were presented at the service.

John Williams, Production Manager, Day Services – North:

"Chris and I both came to EnAble in 1990. He loved hotdogs and airplanes, and I'd take him out to the airport so he could watch them take off and land. He got such a kick out of that. I remember one time I'd bought an apple pie from McDonald's and set it on my desk. Chris was in my office and I walked away to get something. When I returned less than a minute later, my pie was gone. I asked Chris if he'd seen it. He was turned away from me, and mumbled, "No." I asked him again and stood in front of him so I could see his face. Chris' cheeks were puffed out and crumbs covered his mouth. He apologized for eating my pie and hugged me. I laughed and laughed about that. He was my friend and I loved him."

Adetunji Adesesan, Support Manager, Day Services – North, and Stuart Utterback, served by EnAble North:

Tunji and Stuart read the following poem for Chris that they wrote together.

A tree has fallen, a star has fallen from our sky
A friend has bid the rest goodbye, a loved one has gone, never to return
Death has done its worst, victory is certain on the other side for you, friend
So lay down and take your rest, we love you, but the Lord loves you most Goodbye...goodbye...goodbye.

Tunji had this to say: "I met Chris when I managed the Cold Creek and Lynne Circle group homes, and was amazed by his energy and friendliness. There were times, however, when Chris misbehaved. One evening, I was encouraging Chris to shower. Chris did not want to oblige and as a result, swung his pants at me which caused his belt buckle to hit me in the face. I had to be taken to the emergency room to be treated. When I returned to Cold Creek several hours later, Chris was waiting up for me. He wanted to make sure that he apologized for hurting me, and refused to go to bed until I returned. I cannot tell you how much that gesture touched me."

James Moore, Director of Residential Support Services – North:

"It seems so long ago that Chris moved into his home on Cold Creek Drive with Anthony and Rodney. I say "moved" in, but "blew" in is probably more accurate. Because as we all know, Chris didn't do anything unless he did it very, very fast! He talked fast; walked fast; worked fast and played fast. He did everything... fast!

*Christopher John Dann
November 5, 1970 - July 1, 2007*

When I first came to know Chris well, it was early 1991. The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles were everywhere. I didn't understand the appeal, but Chris thought they were hilarious! I remember how excited he became when he'd see them. I worked with Chris on weekends back then; so his hobbies were, for at least a few years, my hobbies too. And one of Chris' favorite hobbies was airplane watching! I can share with all of you something I learned from Chris: The very best airplane watching is in early October when those Sunday afternoon skies are their bluest, and the air is full of small, private planes out for a day of fun.

I think Chris always seemed child-like because just like a child, he would go full-speed-ahead at everything he did! Chris was Maximum Speed – to – Full Stop - with never a gear in between!"

Jodey Moore, served by EnAble South:

"I only met Chris last year, but I considered him my friend. He was a good guy and I am still in shock. I will miss him."

DeAnn Rauth, Director of Development:

"When Chris came to EnAble, he quickly stole a piece of my heart. Even though Chris spoke with few words, he had a great ability to get his point across. Chris came to EnAble to become more independent, which he did, and also taught many of us great life lessons about unconditional love and having fun.

Chris and I became buddies and I enjoyed taking him to get his hair cut. For a few moments, he would sit still and enjoy getting his head massaged, and wiggle his foot the entire time. Chris also shared in some special times in my life. He was at my wedding and one of my baby showers, and he was one of the few individuals I would allow to rub my stomach when I was pregnant. Chris seemed amazed that my tummy could get so big.

I know Chris is in heaven and we will all miss him. But I am sure he is looking down on us with his sly grin. We all will hold many special memories of him, and I'm sure none of us will eat a hotdog without thinking of Chris." ♦

FANTASTIC VACATION GETAWAYS FOR SOUTH FULTON CONSUMERS

By Debra Meadows, Support Associate Floater, South

Support Managers LaTaunya Jarrette, Jimilah Williamson-Snead, and Felton "Bennie" Gay teamed up with Support staff to plan unforgettable excursions for the residents of EnAble's Benjamin E. Mays, Dixie Lake, and Lower Dixie Lake Group Homes in South Fulton County. Bennie and Cedric Jones, Support Associate at Benjamin E. Mays, accompanied the residents—Jodey Moore, Ira White, Joseph Parks, and Lowell Haver—on a four day, three night trip to New Orleans over the Memorial Day Weekend.

Lowell, Ira, Joseph, and Jodey in New Orleans

Jodey had this to say about the trip: "It was so perfect for this time of year because it was nice and hot. We went swimming in the pool. It brought back memories of when I was in Germany with my brothers in the '80s." Jodey penned the following poem to further reflect on his feelings about the trip and how New Orleans has bounced back after Hurricane Katrina:

Swamp Towers

it is the greatest week ever another day has come they rise up to the blazing sun above us

new orleans trees
grow tall from roots buried under water.

Jodey and Bennie in New Orleans

Joseph, who is partial to donuts, said he liked the Continental breakfast at the inn where the "bachelors" lodged during their stay in New Orleans. Ira bragged, "We had shrimp at Red Lobster." Lowell raved about having burgers at The Bubba Gump Shrimp Co. Jodey's favorite spot to eat was the Hard Rock Café, but his favorite outing was the French Quarter where the fellows went shopping.

Lowell purchased fragrant cigars and colorful Mardi Gras masks for his bedroom. Joseph picked up a festive palm tree shirt to add to his "fly" wardrobe. Everyone else bought T-shirts and various memorabilia. The guys enjoyed a parting breakfast at Shoney's, and rode back home with full bellies chattering about what fun they'd had. ♦

EnAble's own "Dixie Chicks" at Lower Dixie Lake, and the "Dixie Lakers" at Dixie Lake have been cooling their heels from a four day, three night trip in May spent in both Helen and Cleveland—charming little towns nestled in the northeast Georgia mountains. The group lodged at a quaint, cozy log cabin where indigenous bears played hide and seek in the backdrop of the woods.

Gina, Lisa, and Monteia in Helen, GA

Lisa Smith, Lead Support Associate at Lower Dixie Lake and Medical Support at the EnAble South office, teamed with Andrea Belcher, Lower Dixie Lake Support Associate, and Kingsley Nmeragini, Live-In Support Associate at Dixie Lake, to escort those we serve—Kathy Phillips, Courtney Cotton, Monteia LeFevre, Gina Williams, Scott Cooley, and Richard Frank—on a series of memorable adventures.

The group getting seated for their carriage ride in Cleveland, GA

Upon their arrival, the group went to Cleveland to shop for groceries and explore the area for outing ideas. Included in the group's fun was Courtney taking a picture dressed in an Old West costume, and a lovely, horse-drawn carriage ride. "Gina was reluctant at first, but was persuaded to hop right on in the carriage when she saw the horse's carrot," Andrea remarked. They rode around the quaint little town trying to decide at which restaurant to eat dinner. After the ride, the residents fed carrots to the horse, but Gina decided to eat one herself instead of giving it to the horse.

The group trekked back to Helen where Monteia purchased sensory items, and the others decided upon T-shirts and other souvenirs. Scott, Andrea, and Kingsley toured the Live Tarantulas Gallery. Scott was the lone brave soul who posed for a photo with a hairy tarantula perched on his shoulder, yet according to Lisa, "He held onto Kingsley for dear life." Next, Gina, Scott, and Monteia were escorted through Babyland Hospital in Cleveland where Gina adopted another Cabbage Patch baby, thus expanding her "rainbow tribe" of Cabbage Patch and Collard Green Kids.

Kingsley and Richard in their cabin

When it was time to head back home, the residents and staff of Dixie Lake and Lower Dixie Lake took with them fond, fun memories of a long weekend spent in the spiritual beauty of the mountains. ♦

ENABLE UNVEILS A NEW DONATION MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

By Nancy Lindgren, Director of Public Relations/Special Representative

Previously the Director of Retail Stores/Store Manager at Champagne Tastes, I have recently joined EnAble's North Fulton Office staff and will head the new Donation Management Program to manage the intake and distribution process for all items donated to EnAble by our friends, donors, and Board members. By coordinating the "Wish List" provided by the group home Support Managers, specific needs for the clients and homes will be met in a more timely, efficient, and cost effective manner with items received from Crate&Barrel in Alpharetta and general donations. Crate&Barrel's monthly donations are delivered alternately to EnAble's North and South Fulton locations. First choice of the merchandise is provided to the homes, and then to clients and staff for their offices. I've created a "store" within the warehouse area where Support Managers, clients, and staff are able to "shop" the donated items. Any items unclaimed after 30 days will be donated to other local charities.

Our plan to build out a significant portion of the current warehouse for Day Services means that space to house donated items is critically limited. In the past, all donations were accepted, however, many never met the actual needs of the homes and clients. The result was a warehouse packed to the rafters with essentially unusable items. Marshall Port, an EnAble client and former employee and volunteer at Champagne Tastes, has for the past several weeks worked with me to identify useable items and dispose of the remainder by working with our nonprofit partners, North Fulton Charities and Abba House.

Executive Assistant, Tish Ford, has assisted by updating and ensuring that current EnAble Wish Lists are received from the Support Managers. Additionally, valuable items donated for the Fashion Show, Golf Tournament, and Gala have been collected and will be maintained in a secured area.

Donors who contact EnAble will be referred to me to determine if items they wish to donate are among our Wish List needs, or could be used for the fundraising events. Our Wish List may be faxed, e-mailed, or mailed to donors upon their request. If there is a significant number of items to be donated, I will arrange an appointment to visit donors to review the items, select those matching our needs, and make arrangements for pick up. In the event they are not practical for EnAble, a list of supporting charities and contact numbers will be provided to donors as additional resources.

Previously, EnAble picked up donated items at no charge, however, the rising cost of gas and labor require a revision to this practice. EnAble now has a minimum pick up fee of $25 (increasing to $50 or $100 based on the amount of items involved) that is tax deductible and will offset EnAble's direct expense for pick up. A professional moving service referral is available to donors who have large items requiring professional moving capacity. In the event donors have an immediate need for disposal (please give 24 hours notice), EnAble will provide resources that can offer such a service.

To learn more about our current needs for donations, please contact me at 770.664.4347, Ext. 103, or at nlindgren@enablega.org. ♦

TWO ENABLE CONSUMERS NOMINATED FOR THE TOMMY NOBIS ALL STAR EMPLOYEE AWARD

On Tuesday, April 17th at the Renaissance Waverly Hotel, two individuals EnAble proudly serves were recognized at the Tommy Nobis Center's 9th Annual Galaxy of Stars/Tommy Awards Celebration. Kathy Sullivan and Rickie Gary, who are served by our North and South Fulton locations, respectively, were each presented with a framed Certificate of Nomination for the All Star Employee Award. Kathy and Rickie met the criteria of the award and were nominated by their co-workers, employers, and EnAble staff members who felt they exemplified the spirit of the Tommy Awards. The All Star Employee Award honors the outstanding achievements and personal character of workers with disabilities. Kathy and Rickie both demonstrated leadership qualities and empowerment in their respective jobs by setting positive examples for their co-workers, and demonstrating an enthusiastic commitment to excellence in spite of their disabilities. Their nominations were well deserved.

Kathy has been a dedicated employee of Kroger for nearly 20 years. She has earned the respect of her co-workers and formed lasting friendships with many of them. Kathy currently works in the Deli and Bakery departments and absolutely loves what she does. The love she has for her job is evident in her hard work, friendliness, and "can-do" spirit. Kathy gives exceptional customer service, has an ever present smile, and is always ready to lend assistance to any customer or co-worker.

At the time of the awards ceremony, Rickie had worked at Burger King as a grill person for 5 years. He was lauded as a conscientious worker with a positive attitude and the ability to brighten a customer's day. Even though he worked at the grill, Rickie still made it a point to greet the patrons sitting in the dining area with a beaming smile and gracious manner. Rickie currently works at Wendy's and is quite happy there as he's making new friends and doing a great job.

Rickie Gary

The Galaxy of Stars Celebration began in 1998 to recognize the work achievements of local people with disabilities who "reach for the stars." This event also recognizes organizations and community leaders who advocate for the inclusion of the disabled in the workforce by providing employment, mentorship, and support. The Tommy Nobis Center was founded in 1977 in Atlanta by Roberta "Bobbie" Knopf and Tommy Nobis, former Atlanta Falcons linebacker, who both understood the need to provide vocational services to disabled students graduating from high school with limited options.

Congratulations on your nominations, Kathy and Rickie! ♦

PUSH AMERICA AND PI KAPPA PHI SPONSOR A "GIVE-A-PUSH WEEKEND" AT ENABLE!

The second weekend in April was a flurry of activity at EnAble's North Fulton Office. Twenty-three volunteers from Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity Chapters at various universities converged on Saturday and Sunday, April 14th and 15th, to offer their services through Push America's Give-A-Push Weekend benefiting EnAble. This two-day program brings together Pi Kaps from across the country to work side by side in carrying out service projects for people with disabilities.

EnAble staff members DeAnn Rauth, Shirley Pahl, Gary Chester, and Dave Cribier, along with consumers from several of the North Fulton group homes, were on hand to welcome the volunteers on behalf of Richard Colyer, EnAble President/Executive Director, who was unable to attend. Richard serves on Push America's Board of Directors where he has been an active member since joining last year.

The young men of Pi Kappa Phi came from the following campuses: Mercer University, Georgia Institute of Technology, Georgia State University, North Georgia College and State University, University of Missouri-Rolla, and University of Alabama at Birmingham. Armed with tools, paintbrushes, smiles, and lots of energy, they were ready to go to work. The two projects the fraternity engaged in were painting the reception area and hallways of the administrative offices, and constructing a covered walkway in the rear of the building for those we serve in wheelchairs attending Day Services. The hallway walls were painted a color combination of eggplant and taupe, which provided an instant warmth to the areas. The covered walkway was constructed to shield the consumers waiting to be helped into their wheelchair lift vans, and assisting Support staff and family members arriving to and departing from Day Services, from inclement weather.

Biscuits from Chick-fil-A and McDonald's, hearty deli meat and cheese trays from Kroger, and savory barbeque and fixings from Slope's were on the menu to slake the appetites of the volunteers, and EnAble consumers and staff. At the barbecue held in their honor on Saturday evening, the student volunteers got to spend time with many of those served by EnAble, and were presented with a huge vanilla sheet cake with cream cheese frosting from Publix that conveyed EnAble's gratitude in these words: "Thank you Push America and Pi Kappa Phi for your hard work, friendship, and support!" As well, DeAnn happily accepted a $5,000 grant on EnAble's behalf from Push America towards completing the construction of the covered walkway and painting of the hallways.

Push America was established as a nonprofit organization in 1977 by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity for the distinct purpose of imparting to its members the value of lifelong service to persons with disabilities. Their mission is to build leaders of tomorrow by serving people with disabilities today. In the years since its inception, Push America has grown into a national organization with several programs that educate undergraduates, alumni, and communities about what disabled people can do. Push America and Pi Kappa Phi proudly encompass a nationwide service leadership of more than 6,000 undergraduates and 60,000 alumni.

In 1989, Give-A-Push Weekends became an integral part of Pi Kappa Phi's service experience. They are heavily committed to the year-round construction of accessible environments on campuses, in communities and facilities, and in individuals' homes that provide barrier-free societies for the disabled population. Push America generously donates the money, manpower, and materials to carry out these worthwhile projects.

This year, Push America celebrates thirty years of improving the lives of individuals with disabilities and equipping future leaders with the organization's core values: abilities, teamwork, empathy, and integrity. This is also a special year for Push America and Pi Kappa Phi because the Journey of Hope cross-country bike rides and Build America are celebrating anniversaries as well. The twentieth Journey of Hope team will consist of 95 Pi Kappa Phis and visit 32 states over its three routes. Build America is looking forward to its largest team ever as 25 Pi Kaps plan to visit 9 states and 6 camps throughout the Midwest and Southeast regions to do special building projects for individuals with disabilities.

We are deeply appreciative of and grateful to Push America and the men of Pi Kappa Phi for choosing EnAble to benefit from its Give-A-Push Weekend. ♦

HABITUDES - PART 2

Images That Form Leadership Habits and Attitudes

Edited by Richard Colyer,
Executive Director

Again in this newsletter, I want to share some insights from a book by one of my personally favorite authors and teachers, Dr. Tim Elmore, president of Growing Leaders. He's a favorite speaker and mentor for many on leadership. In one of the books in his Habitude Series, there's a great chapter called The Paul Revere Principle. I'd like to share parts of it with you so we can think about it together. It has a lot to say about a subject of great importance to us at EnAble as we build leaders for the future.

THE PAUL REVERE PRINCIPLE

PAUL REVERE AND WILLIAM DAWES BOTH MADE A MIDNIGHT RIDE, BUT ONLY ONE WAS ABLE TO CONNECT WITH AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE.

Just outside of Boston, on April 18th, 1775, a young stable boy overheard two British soldiers talking. They hinted of an attack on the colonists in New England, and said something about the townsmen having "hell to pay" tomorrow. The young boy ran to inform a silversmith by the name of Paul Revere. After careful thought, Revere determined to mobilize the area against the attack the British were planning. And the rest, as they say, is history.

Paul Revere made his famous "midnight ride," which actually began about 10:00 p.m. that night. He raced on horseback through the towns and villages surrounding Boston, challenging locals to get-up and defend their country! By the next morning, as the Redcoats secretly made their way inland, they were met in Lexington by a huge group of volunteers, American patriots. They were shocked, to say the least. The British were unprepared and outdone that morning—and the Revolutionary War was underway.

An interesting bit of trivia from this story is that Paul Revere wasn't the only Patriot to make a midnight ride. A tanner by the name of William Dawes also took the ride. He rode on a similar horse, covered a similar amount of territory, and carried an identical message, but Dawes had difficulty getting anyone to act. In fact, he was so poor at mobilizing folks, historians assumed for years Dawes must have traveled to pro-British towns. But, alas, he hadn't. He simply lacked the capability to mobilize people, even for a cause they agreed with.

This contrast illustrates another important leadership truth. I call it the "Paul Revere Principle." When you boil down the essence of leadership to its bare minimum, it's about mobilizing others to act. Paul Revere was able to connect with and influence townspeople to get up and respond. William Dawes, on the other hand, couldn't get a man to turn over in bed! (Well—that may be an exaggeration). For some reason, though, Dawes lacked the credibility, communication skills, aptitude, trust, and respect to move people toward taking a risk.

So what is it, then, that enables a leader to motivate people to action? There are many answers to that question, but let me suggest a few:

1. INSIGHT - PEOPLE LISTEN TO YOU BECAUSE OF WHAT YOU KNOW. Example: Ben Franklin. Ben influenced people through his knowledge, wisdom, and insight.
2. RELATIONSHIPS - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF WHO YOU KNOW. Example: D. L. Moody. An ungifted man, folks saw he was connected with God and influential men and women.
3. SACRIFICE - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF WHAT YOU'VE SUFFERED. Example: Mother Teresa. Harvard grads and U. S. presidents listened because of her sacrificial life.

4. ABILITIES - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF WHAT YOU ARE ABLE TO DO. Example: Michael Jordan. His credibility came from his unmatched skills on the basketball court.

5. EXPERIENCE - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF WHAT YOU'VE ACHIEVED. Example: Colin Powell or Norman Schwarzkopf. Their credibility came from their military success.

6. INTUITION - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF WHAT YOU SENSE. Example: Thomas Edison or Bill Gates. They saw a new world coming before the rest of us did.

7. CHARACTER - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF YOUR INTEGRITY. Example: Billy Graham. His sermons aren't flashy, but he's a man of his word. He walks the talk.

8. HUMILITY - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF YOUR HEART. Example: Elizabeth Dole. She connects with the hearts of people in down-to-earth style.

9. RELEVANCE - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE YOU IDENTIFY WITH THEIR NEEDS. Example: Martin Luther King, Jr. He identified with common folks, he marched and bled with them.

10. CONVICTIONS - PEOPLE LISTEN BECAUSE OF YOUR PASSION. Example: Winston Churchill. His passion and conviction stirred the Allies to fight until they won.

Let me ask you a question: Why do people listen to you? What reasons do you give them to follow you? Good leaders find a way to connect with people. They earn their right to be followed. They build bridges of relationship that can bear the weight of the truth. ♦

THANK YOU TO THE SUPPORTERS OF CHAMPAGNE TASTES

Thank you to all of you who were loyal customers and supporters of Champagne Tastes for the 2½ years we were in business. Although the store closed this April due to spiraling operational costs, the work we accomplished had a positive impact by raising awareness of the developmentally disabled within the community, provided store employment opportunities and personally touched hundreds of lives of those we serve through the annual holiday "Secret Angel" program!

Again, thank you for your generous support of Champagne Tastes, and for your continued support of EnAble of Georgia. ♦

SOUTH FULTON KNOWS FASHION

By Stephen Pullie, Support Associate, Princeton Lakes

The EnAble consumers living at Princeton Lakes Apartments—Melissa Crawley, John Brady, Rickie Gary, Christel Hayes, and Robert (Nathan) Klingenberg—participated in “The Red Carpet Fashion Show Extravaganza” on April 20th, held at and sponsored by the Fulton County South Training Center in Fairburn. Two other consumers served by EnAble South, Regina Hubbard and Kenny Lupoe, took part as well.

To have only rehearsed once, the consumers who modeled four different types of attire did an excellent job! They walked with confidence on the runway during the show and struck poses as the photographer snapped their pictures. Melissa was the picture of sophistication as she modeled evening wear. Rickie, Regina, and Nathan were dignified and proper in their church wear. Kenny was his usual, laid back self as he modeled, appropriately, casual wear. Entertainment for the fashion show was provided by John in an enigmatic performance as Elvis Presley, and Christel who executed a spiritually-moving praise dance.

Each year, the Fulton County South Training Center's employees put on a special event that the individuals they serve can actively take part in, and this year's event just happened to be a fashion show. Admission was free and well-attended by the consumers and their families. Congratulations to everyone involved for a job well done! ♦

MEET PRINCETON LAKES' STEPHEN COURT

By LaTaunya Jarrette, Support Manager, Personal Support Services

Stephen Court, the latest consumer to reside at Princeton Lakes Apartments, is served through EnAble South's Personal Support Services. He moved to Princeton Lakes in December 2006 and shares an apartment with Nathan Klingenberg. Stephen desired more independence and had tired of the group home setting. Other reasons precipitating his move were that he admired the Camp Creek area of Atlanta, and he wanted to be geographically closer to his fiancée, Melissa Crawley, who shares a unit with Christel Hayes.

Stephen at EnAble's Gala on March 3, 2007

Stephen told me that what he likes most about living in the apartment is that he can view construction projects and traffic from his balcony. He also likes the fact that he has more choices in where he can ride his bicycle.

Last but not least—as if getting settled in the apartment isn't enough—Stephen and his fiancée, Melissa, are planning their wedding to take place next summer! Nowadays, Stephen's favorite phrase is, “I couldn't be happier!” ♦

INTRODUCING THE LADIES OF LYNNE CIRCLE

New EnAble consumers Kyle Ireland, Jessica Clark, and Lissa Stuckey have moved into the recently refurbished Lynne Circle Group Home in North Fulton County. This refurbishing was made possible by a grant EnAble received earlier from the Robert W. Woodruff Foundation, Inc.

Jessica and Lissa had previously lived at home with their families before coming to EnAble, and Kyle had resided at an assisted living facility that had closed its doors. While the three women share a lovely home, they have very different personalities.

Kyle is quiet and reserved. She loves to read newspapers and magazines, and it's no wonder that at one time, Kyle had volunteered with the Atlanta-Fulton Public Library System. Lissa likes noise and activity. She has an appreciation for all types of music and likes looking at bright, vivid colors. Lissa has a rattle with which she likes to play and make her own music. Jessica interacts well with children and loves the outdoors. In her bedroom, she has a trunk filled with toys and delights in those who engage her in her play.

Each resident has family members who are dedicated to them and have been with their loved ones every step of the way as they transitioned to their new home.

Louise Clark is a steady presence in her daughter Jessica's new home life, and has even recreated Jessica's bedroom at Lynne Circle almost exactly the way it was in her own home. Kyle's twin sister, Karen Thomson, visits her regularly and brings her reading material and other comforts. Thomas and Brenda Stuckey, Lissa's parents, have been especially involved with her care and spend a great deal of quality time with Lissa.

Kyle, Lissa, and Jessica are also part of EnAble's Day Services program, where they participate in a sensory group and go on park outings and to events such as puppet shows. We are happy to welcome these ladies to EnAble and their new home. ♦

MORE GREAT DAYS OF SERVICE FOR ENABLE!

By Shirley Pahl, Development Coordinator

On Saturday, April 21st, members from Alpharetta United Methodist Church volunteered at EnAble's Lynne Circle and Cold Creek Group Homes. Alpharetta UMC members, led by Bruce Johnson, beautified Lynne Circle through the following projects: painting the front yard swing, cleaning all the windows inside and outside, pressure washing the deck, carport, driveway, and sidewalks, cleaning the roof and the gutters, planting flowers, and distributing pine straw.

In April 2005 while running a Great Day of Service project at Lynne Circle with a group of volunteers, Bruce said to me, "You need a roof on this house and we can do a roof for you." Many of the volunteers gained experience replacing roofs while on the Mississippi coast after Hurricane Katrina, and they were willing to go to work.

Volunteers from Alpharetta UMC at Lynne Circle

With donations from the Alpharetta Lions Club and twenty-six volunteers from Alpharetta UMC, the project got under way on Friday, June 22nd with the removal of the old roof. The roof was finished that Sunday evening when the last shingle was laid and the job site cleaned up. The three ladies residing in the home, Lissa, Kyle, and Jessica, now have a new roof and expressed their thanks to the New Visions Adult Sunday School Class and the many other volunteers from Alpharetta UMC.

At Cold Creek, Alpharetta UMC members gave a much-needed coat of paint to the deck. Now, the gentlemen of Cold Creek can enjoy a nicely painted deck when they relax outside in the evening's warm weather. The church members also filled in holes in the front yard with dirt. This really helped give the yard a more uniform appearance, and will make the grass easier to cut.

The Taylor Oaks Subdivision Care Group did a Great Day of Service for EnAble's East Hembree Group Home. On Saturday, May 5th, led by Eric Chism and Sandra Gray, Taylor Oaks cleaned all the homes' windows, and pressure-washed the sidewalks, driveway, back patio, and patio furniture. They planted beautiful flowers and laid down pine straw, as well as cleaned the memorial garden in front of the house.

Volunteers from Taylor Oaks Subdivision Care Group at East Hembree

Many thanks to Alpharetta UMC and Taylor Oaks Subdivision Care Group for your hard work and support!

If you, your church, or other organization would like to volunteer with EnAble, please contact our Director of Volunteer Effort, Sibyl Bogardus, at 678.472.1186, or via e-mail at sbogardus@enablega.org, or call EnAble at 770.664.4347, Ext. 103. ♦

SOUTH FULTON CELEBRATES CINCO DE MAYO

By Megan Kirby, Support Manager - Day Services South

In Mexico, the United States, and abroad, Cinco de Mayo is a celebration of Mexican heritage and pride, but it also commemorates an initial victory of Mexican forces over French occupation in the Battle of Puebla on May 5, 1862. EnAble South's Cinco de Mayo celebration held in our Day Services facility on May 3rd was a joyous experience that exposed those we serve to the fascinating culture of Mexico.

Ira White striking the piñata

Colorful, festive decorations, authentic Mexican dishes, and frenetic dancing to Salsa and Merengue music are what made our observance so enjoyable and fun. The

Megan getting things rolling as she shows her partner a few dance steps celebration commenced with the clients and staff decorating Day Services with items that conveyed the Cinco de Mayo spirit. Following the hanging of decorations, everyone enjoyed fantastic Mexican dishes, which included salads and layered dips provided by Day Services

Staff and the South Fulton group homes.

The party continued outdoors with the clients attempting to burst a piñata. Wearing blindfolds, everyone worked together to finally shatter the piñata, and shared the Mexican candy that fell to the ground.

Moving right along with the festivities, the music energized

Dance instructor Reggie Beason

the clients and staff to take part in the Salsa and Merengue dance classes that began that afternoon. The dances were taught by Mr. Reggie Beason of Dancing 4 Fun, Inc., who generously donated his time and talent to add to the fun of the party. All who participated in the dance classes really felt the rhythm of Salsa and Merengue.

Our Cinco de Mayo celebration was a true success because those we serve and staff were able to experience Mexican culture in creating their own Cinco de Mayo remembrance. ♦

Consumers and staff prepare for the dance classes
